

Conditions of Participation

With the eventbrite.com registration your participation in the GAY-TANTRA® Job-Training is booked bindingly.

The job-training, organized by GAY-TANTRA® International, Berlin, Germany, is open to all men regardless of age, sexual orientation, beginner or advanced level, single or couple status. It is only important to have a serious interest in GAY-TANTRA® and the willingness to engage with men in a protected setting in order to get involved in deep experiences (Information: The job-trainings are no psychotherapy or replacements for therapy. During ongoing therapy or spiritual mentoring please discuss the intended participation with your therapist or mentor). The instructor reserves the right to exclude any registered person from participating in the job-training for justified reasons. It will be understood that you take part in the whole training.

The registration - done through eventbrite.com - must be received at least 48 hours before the job-training begins (exceptions only by prior verbal agreement).

After receiving the complete registration you will get a written confirmation within two weeks per email (please watch your email account!). This confirmation provides all necessary information and instructions to reach the training-location and the items you should bring with you. At trainings in seminar-houses the booking of the overnight accommodation happens afterwards personally normally at the seminar house. The payment is done at the venue normally by cash. In the case of cancellation at a short notice the hotel will charge you for the booked nights and meals.

For withdrawals more than four weeks before the training, all paid fees will be refunded about one week after the training, less a 15% administration charge. For withdrawals after that time, no training fees will be refunded unless a replacement participant is found. In the case of cancellation by GAY-TANTRA® International, all fees already paid will be fully refunded.

Every participant takes full responsibility for himself and all his actions outside and during the job-training. He compensates caused damages and exempts the instructors and the owner of the venue of any liabilities.

Updated: October 15, 2016

© 1992-2016 GAY-TANTRA® International. All rights reserved.